

Brand new toy

From left, Roaring Riptide members Jacob Sedesse, 14, Francesca Flores, 17, and Andrea Wright, 17, watch as Molly Gabbard, 7, controls a robot during the team's first robotics demonstration at the Millhopper Branch Library in Gainesville Tuesday. [ANDREA CORNEJO/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER]

Roaring Riptide robotics team show off their latest robot at Millhopper Library

Audrey Hertel, 6, looks at the Roaring Riptide's robot during the team's first robotics demonstration. "I like robots because building them makes people think," said Hertel. "Plus, I think they are cool."

Children and families watch Roaring Riptide's first robotics demonstration at the Millhopper Branch Library in Gainesville.

The mission of PK Yonge's Roaring Riptide is to inspire young people to be technology and science leaders by engaging them in mentor-based programs.